Location & surrounding area:

Candelaria is particularly famous for its most important landmark, the Basilica de Nuestra Señora de la Candelaria. It makes the village the most important pilgrimage destination of the Catholic Christians on the Canary Islands. In the Basilica the patron saint Virgen de la Candelaria is worshiped. The figure of the patron saint is said to have been discovered by two Guanches at the beach of Candelaria already about 100 years before the arrival of the Spanish on the Canary Islands. Unfortunately the original was lost during an exceptional flood in 1826 and was replaced a few years later by the present figure.

The historic place that has still many historic buildings is also symbolized by nine large statues of the former Guanche Kings, the Menceys, that are on the seaward side of the Plaza de la Patrona de Canarias, where is also the sanctuary.

The place is connected by the high-traffic pedestrian street Calle Obispo Pérez Cáceres, in which we find shops, bars and restaurants, to a marina, which emphasizes the importance of maritime tradition of Candelaria also for visitors and tourists. In front of the pedestrian zone stretches a long beach of black lava sand, and plenty of other beaches are in the wider community. For cooler days is also available a modern saltwater swimming pool.

Candelaria, with its seaside location, rich cultural life and a beautiful mountainous hinterland is a nice location for every kind of interest and preference. Moreover, both Tenerife's capital Santa Cruz de Tenerife as well as the south with its airport Reina Sofia and the centers of tourism such as Golf del Sur, El Medano, Los Cristianos and Playa de las Americas are not far.
